

Pain Rating Scale

"The science of opioids for chronic pain is clear: For the vast majority of patients, the known, serious, and too-often-fatal risks far outweigh the unproven and transient benefits.... We know of no other medication routinely used for a nonfatal condition that kills patients so frequently." Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, March 2016.

